The World Forum

- Joint initiative from the Régie, NARUC and CAMPUT.
- First edition in May 2000, in Montréal.
- 1,000 participants from over 100 countries.
- Led to the creation of the International Confederation of Regulators (ICER), in 2009.

Objectives

- To attract participants from all continents, representing a broad diversity of points of view.
- To discuss on the latest developments on regulation and to promote best practices.
- To offer an opportunity to exchange and build relationships between regulators from all over the world.

Programme

- Reflect the various issues, challenges and opportunities in energy regulation faced by regulators and allow a diversity of points of view to be expressed.
- Offer content which is responsive to varying degrees of regulation maturity.
- Provide ample opportunity for regulators to exchange, build relationships and network.
- Technological advances, such as smart meters or smart grid, and their impacts on stakeholders will be discussed.
- Should allow regulators to share and promote best practices in regulation.
